More of Roy Anderson's 'Dear Folks' Letters

EDITOR'S NOTE: Currently running in The Star from time to time are the last of Roy Anderson's "Dear Folks" community letters. The current batch were written in 1970, of a series that began in 1960. But the letters we will print in the next few weeks will be the last of the crop. Roy has definitely quit the "Dear Folks" series.

Here is today's installment of "Dear Folks":

By ROY ANDERSON

With season ticket and box seat to Hope Hi School games, and also Razorback, and could go see none—was a heck of a time to be sick for six months. Yet, it all could have been worse—it could have been you—which I pray will never happen to any of you "Dear Folks". You do get time to think in the hospital (between shots) and bedridden at home, looking at the ceiling—and I thought of how fortunate I was to have Mary Sue and thoughtful friends. I've heard Ed McFaddin, a Bible student, teach the Sunday School Class many times—and almost always he liked to have us sing "Count your many blessings—name them one by one—and see what God has done." He called me from Little Rock to wish me well—though I was not able to talk to him, but thought of his favorite song—and began to count my blessings—name them one by one.

I'm still thinking of so many—a long list and go to sleep often times, not counting sheep, but blessings. It's a wonderful soother of your nerves (better than Somnuxin). Try it, you will be surprised to see what God has done—and that you have so many blessings—one, good jobbing—no getting out in the rain, walking through the cow lot to the "back house". No running out of coal oil, no cleaning the lamp chimney (you go on down the list)—no splitting pine knots for kindling, and filling the cook stove with wood, or putting fire wood by the fireplace. Yes, I'm thankful and told the Lord I was.

(Oct. 1970) Women's Liberation. We read so much about that now—a cartoon shows a wife, saying she struck "a blow for Liberation." "How's that?" her husband asked. "I took off my girdle."

And another thing for which I am thankful—I've just read of one of the multi-millionaire DuPont boys going broke—filled bankruptcy and listed liabilities and debts of over 62 million—I'm thankful I don't owe that much. Join me in this Prayer: Our Heavenly Father—I need Thee every hour. Each morning we pray the prayer Thy Son taught us—"Thy Will Be Done". If it's Thy will that I and others suffer with pain—then give us the strength to bear that pain, and strength to carry whatever is our burden and sufficient strength to help the other fellow carry his. Amen. I. O. L. Roy A. (More to come later.)

Would Protect Auto Owners From Incompetent Repairman

By PEGGY SIMPSON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Car owners need a watchdog to protect them from high-priced incompetence in the auto dealer's repair shop, presidential adviser Virginia H. Knauer said today.

Mrs. Knauer, President Nixon's adviser on consumer affairs, proposed creation of an objective review board to inspect and grade dealer service. "Too many consumers have found out that the lowest price in town can be a bad bargain," Mrs. Knauer said in letters to auto and consumer organizations soliciting their support for her idea. "Too many consumers have paid for unnecessary repairs."

"And too many consumers have had repairs made with unsatisfactory results. I am sure you will agree with me that these experiences, on the part of many Americans, are intolerable."

Mrs. Knauer said she first proposed creation of the review board in letters Oct. 1 to major domestic auto makers and to the National Automobile Dealers Association.

In replies Mrs. Knauer made public, General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors asserted that their own watchdog plans to some extent already provide the monitoring Mrs. Knauer wants.

The NADA endorsed some features of the proposal, and Ford and American Motors indicated willingness to explore the idea further.

Mrs. Knauer now has asked the Transportation Department, the Center for Auto Safety, the American Automobile Association, Consumers Union, the Consumer Federation of America and individual dealers for suggestions to implement her idea.

The general terms she outlined would:

—Create a "quality service recognition program" to honor dealers given top ratings by consumers.

—Provide consumers with an easy way to comment about the quality of dealer service.

—Set up some sort of review board—perhaps composed of consumers, educators, engineers and company officials—to evaluate consumer comments.

—Provide for the review board to inspect participating dealerships to determine the adequacy of service facilities.

1,290 Industrial Jobs Created Here in 1971

During 1971 the City of Hope voted on four bond issues under Arkansas Act 9 that totaled $5,800,000 for new and existing industry. This, along with private and government loans, will create an estimated 1,290 industrial jobs by the end of 1972.

The largest bond issue of $3.6 million was for Permaneer Corp. to expand its local wall board plant which will add 100 employees to the payroll. Work is to start on the expansion early in 1972.

The bond issue was overwhelmingly approved by Hope voters on November 9. On October 29, Permaneer formally announced plans to expand its Sierra Permaneer Furniture Division by building a new plant in Hope that will employ from 450 to 500 persons. Production in the 150,000 square foot plant is scheduled for late 1972. The company will manufacture a complete line of bedroom furniture, bookcases and occasional tables.

The second largest bond issue was for $1.5 million for Tennessee Forging Steel Co. to construct a new plant. The firm, which makes fabricated steel products for building, plans to start construction in January, 1972. It will initially employ 175 persons, many highly skilled.

Early in 1970, a $450,000 bond issue was passed to allow Standard Generator Co. to expand its local plant, creating 100 more jobs.

A $250,000 bond issue allowed Meyer's Brown N' Sals Bakery here to expand, creating 50 additional jobs.

Spears Carpet Mills, Inc., which will employ 175 persons, is now under construction. The firm, financed by a Small Business loan from the government and local banks, will manufacture all kinds of carpet.

Hope Foods, Inc., a chicken processing plant, got under production in October, 1971 and is currently employing 85 persons.

Corn Belt Feed Mill, a wholly owned subsidiary of Kroger Co., opens its huge mill in November and is now employing 40 persons. Kroger also has a chicken processing plant projected for the near future.

Also in 1970, Howard's Discount Center completed its new building. Two other large stores Kroger Grocery and TG&Y have new buildings but will not move in until after January 1972.

With the opening of Interstate 30 through Hope many new stores and businesses are springing up. Negotiations are underway for at least two 100-unit motels and a large shopping complex near the I-30 and Highways 4 and 29 interchanges.

And an Urban Renewal project is about ready to get into full swing with the starting of phase 1. This project will eventually cost $3,065,185 in federal and local funds and will change the entire face of the downtown area.

The construction business has boomed here, and permits approved by the City of Hope during the year totaled just under $2 million. Permits were granted for over 75 new homes during the year, and contractors and other developers are building houses like mad to receive the influx of new residents that the industrial progress is bound to bring.

Memorial Scene of Protest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 80 persons were arrested at a human barricade put up by Vietnam war veterans staging an antiwar protest at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

The arrests Tuesday followed by only a few hours a decision by 15 members of the same group, the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, to end their 40-hour occupation of the Statue of Liberty.

At the Lincoln Memorial, the U.S. park police arrested 86 demonstrators who refused to move from the entrance. The protesters placed their hands on their heads in prisoner of war fashion and waited for police to lead them to waiting buses. They were charged with blocking the entrance to a building, a misdemeanor.

The last person arrested was Gerald Evan, a University of Massachusetts student and an Air Force veteran. Evan had climbed atop a huge urn in front of the memorial and held aloft a flag emblazoned "Vietnam Veterans Against the War."

Thirty minutes after the last of his comrades was arrested, he shouted to police:

"You told me I was under arrest and I surrender. I'm your prisoner and under your custody. All you have to do is come and get me."

In the end, he climbed down and gave up.

Earlier, park police chased one protester from the urn across the memorial steps and knocked him down. Two others were arrested when they moved close to him.

Some 150 protesters had marched peacefully from the base of the Capitol to the front of the White House and then to the memorial.

The group had burned copies of the North Vietnamese seven-point peace plan at the base of the Capitol. Then, at the memorial, the group placed an empty coffin in front of the seated likeness of the 16th president. The protesters stood silently while taps was played, then staged a short sit-down before locking arms and attempting to barricade the entrance.

Demonstrators in New York left the Statue of Liberty in good shape, according to James Bateman, the statue's superintendent. Floors were cleared and refuse placed in garbage cans.

The veterans left behind five $1 bills with a note explaining the money was to pay for some food and coffee they had taken from a refrigerator in an employees' cafeteria. They also left a message in the guest book which read:

"May those people who happen to leaf through these pages in search of the name of a friend know that on this page are the names of 15 men who carried out a beautiful thought—that we should all live in peace."

YAF Refuses to Pay Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alan Leveritt, state chairman of the Young Americans for Freedom, said Tuesday the YAF would refuse to pay a city privilege tax for publishing its newspaper, Essence, at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Leveritt said the annual $70 privilege tax on weekly and monthly newspaper publishers would force Essence and other small independent newspapers out of business.

He said he thought the tax also infringed on the First Amendment rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

"We feel it is necessary for the financially weak, independent presses, left and right, to stand together in resistance to this repressive tax or face inevitable extinction," Leveritt said in a prepared statement.

Leveritt called the constitutionality of the privilege tax system itself highly questionable.

Investigate Shooting Death

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—An investigation was continuing today into the apparent shooting death of Woodrow DeFee, 44, of near El Dorado.

Authorities said DeFee's body was found Tuesday afternoon by a hunter about eight miles west of El Dorado. Officers said he had been shot once and possibly twice with a shotgun. It was estimated the victim had been dead 10-18 hours.

Officers said the victim was last seen Monday near his home.

Welfare Mothers Must Work If They're Able

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has signed into law a bill initiated by congressional conservatives which requires many healthy welfare mothers to work or accept job training.

Critics of the measure say Nixon's signature kills any chances for enactment of the other key parts of the President's welfare reform plan: a guaranteed annual income and welfare benefits for low-income job holders.

The bill Nixon signed at the Florida White House Tuesday during the congressional recess goes into effect July 1. It makes it mandatory for many of the 2.6 million parents in the controversial aid to families with dependent children program to sign up for available jobs or training.

Only the aged, the sick or disabled, those in school or mothers of children under school age are exempted.

The measure, attached as an amendment to a larger bill, was quietly passed by the House and Senate Dec. 15 with little debate or advance notice.

Welfare administrators say the problem is not finding welfare recipients to sign up for jobs, but finding any jobs at all for those who will or are able to work.

In signing the bill, Nixon acknowledged it amounts to something less than half a loaf.

The welfare system, he said, "is yet in need of reform."

"Further economic incentives must be provided to keep families together, rather than to break them apart; to encourage welfare recipients to take jobs rather than to discourage them from working," Nixon said.

But he said the work-incentive measure "represents a significant step in the direction of welfare reform."

At the same time, he called for quick congressional passage of the rest of his welfare proposals.

The work-incentive plan closely parallels a portion of Nixon's over-all bill, now stalled in the Senate Finance Committee after passing the House. The Senate is expected to take up the bill after it reconvenes Jan. 18.

Finance Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., strongly opposes a provision calling for a guaranteed minimum annual income of $2,400 for a family of four.

Southern Democrats say the guaranteed income, based on a sliding scale according to family size, would encourage illegitimate births. Some liberals also oppose the over-all bill, saying it is not generous enough.

Two Counties Receive Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office of Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said Tuesday that two Arkansas counties will receive $111,700 under the special emergency section of the Emergency Employment Act.

The office reported that Lee County will get $66,400 and Pope County $45,300. These funds were from $36 million left in reserve from the $200 million in funds authorized by the act for distribution to high unemployment areas.

ISO Withdraws Rate Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Insurance Services Office filed a request here Tuesday seeking withdrawal of its request for increases in its automobile insurance rates.

The firm, a nationwide insurance advisory, rating and statistical organization, sought rate changes that would have produced an average statewide increase of almost 23 per cent for customers of companies affiliated with the group.

An ISO official said the withdrawal was based on various circumstances "including rules of the federal price commission that will require rethinking and recomputation of statistical data by ISO."

No Letup in Air Attacks

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The heaviest American air attack on North Vietnam in more than three years continued for the fourth day today with no letup in sight.

U.S. diplomatic sources reported that the armada of 350 planes and helicopters flew more than 500 attack strikes and hundreds more support missions in the first 3½ days of the round-the-clock bombing that began Sunday.

To keep the attack force at full strength, a scheduled port leave for the carrier Constellation was delayed and it continued to launch its planes from the Tonkin Gulf, along with the carrier Coral Sea.

The Constellation and the Coral Sea are supplying about 150 fighter-bombers to the force attacking North Vietnam. The rest of the aircraft come from bases in South Vietnam and Thailand.

Radio Hanoi claimed that a seventh U.S. plane was shot down Tuesday, in Quang Binh Province just north of the demilitarized zone. It said nothing about the crew. Radio Hanoi reported earlier that five planes were shot down on Sunday and a sixth on Monday. It said a number of the pilots were killed or captured.

The U.S. Command refused to comment on the report of the number of strikes flown, Hanoi's claims of seven planes downed or its report that the raiders had killed or wounded many civilians. The command said that for security reasons it would disclose no details of the operation until it was completed.

Hanoi claimed that in Thanh Hoa Province on Sunday the U.S. planes killed 24 civilians and wounded 47. A broadcast said most of the casualties were caused by steel-pellet antipersonnel bombs dropped on workers in the fields; and that targets for the bombs included the Thanh Hoa hospital.

Says Egypt Set for War

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat told a political meeting Tuesday that Egypt is completing preparations to go to war against Israel, but he did not close the door on diplomatic efforts for a peace settlement, the semiofficial newspaper Al-Ahram reported today.

"The battle of liberation is a must and we have already taken an irrevocable decision for it," Sadat declared.

"But the question of timing is connected with delicate internal and international assessments that are the competence of the leadership and not for public debate."

Israeli officials in Jerusalem expressed cautious optimism after reading reports of Sadat's speech.

"We don't know yet if there has been any change of direction," one Israeli official said. "It seems, however, that Egypt has, for the time being at least, decided to continue the search for a political solution."

Sadat, who has pledged that 1971 will be "the year of decision" in the Middle East, spoke at a meeting of members of the Peoples Assembly—parliament—and the central committee of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party.

"The decision is now under implementation and the battle of liberation will be long and bitter," Sadat emphasized. "But it does not mean that political moves will be halted because to do so will paralyze part of our effective potential."

Sadat was strongly critical of U.S. policy in the Middle East and made clear he rejects suggestions for the resumption of U.S.-sponsored negotiations for an interim Suez Canal settlement.

Crime Increases by 6 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 6 per cent during the first nine months of this year, the FBI reported today.

Violent crime was up 10 per cent and property crime up 6 per cent compared with the same period last year.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, in releasing the FBI's statistics, said the percentage increase was the smallest in five years. He noted that 52 cities with more than 100,000 population reported fewer crimes than in the first nine months of 1970.

The largest cities, those with more than 250,000 population, reported an average increase of 3 per cent during the period. Suburban and rural areas reported crime increases of 11 per cent and 6 per cent respectively.

Murder, rape, robbery and assault—the violent crimes—all rose during the nine months, as did the property crimes of burglary, larceny and auto theft.

Murder increased 10 per cent, rape 7 per cent, robbery 12 per cent and assault 8 per cent. Burglary rose 7 per cent, larceny 6 per cent and auto theft 2 per cent.

The Western states recorded the greatest over-all nine-month increase of 10 per cent, with crime up 9 per cent in the Northeastern states and 3 per cent in both the North Central and Southern states.

The 20 cities between 500,000 and one million in population reported an over-all decrease of 3 per cent in recorded crimes during the nine months. Only one crime, aggravated assault, showed an increase in those cities. It was up 1 per cent.

The FBI said armed robbery, which makes up two-thirds of all robbery offenses, increased 17 per cent, while assaults with firearms, accounting for one-fourth of serious assaults, increased 11 per cent.

The 6 per cent over-all increase for the nation compares with percentage increases in the past five years of 10 in 1970, 11 in 1969, 19 in 1968, and 16 in 1967.

No Deals on Troop Cuts, Brandt Told

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willie Brandt ended their two-day summit conference today with a pledge to continue a close partnership between the two countries.

A joint communique, issued as the session ended, focused largely on the need for close cooperation between the western allies in any dealings with the Soviet Union.

According to the communique, the president and chancellor discussed the necessity for continued American military presence in Europe, the need for cooperation on monetary and trade policies, and the desirability of coordination of all diplomatic initiatives by the United States and members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The last day of the conference, a 2 1/2-hour session this morning, dealt in broad issues, particularly relating to Nixon's upcoming trips to China and the Soviet Union.

Nixon was particularly interested in this not only to explain the historic visits but to gain from the impressions Brandt picked up in his meetings last summer with Russian leaders.

Officials on both sides said the talks have been a great success, conducted with warmth and full understanding and agreement on the wide range of subjects.

The major development from Tuesday's opening rounds was a pledge by Nixon, in the words of Secretary of State William P. Rogers, "to do everything we can to maintain our troop strength in Europe."

This was of much value to Brandt, who sought reassurances of a continued strong American presence in Europe to buttress his negotiating position to reaching an understanding with East Germany.

Rogers, in his meeting with Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, and Nixon, in his session with Brandt, stressed that the United States will in no way negotiate any agreement with the Soviet Union on troop cuts or other European matters outside the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"In other words," Rogers told reporters, "we are not going to make any agreement about reducing our forces in Europe unless we do it in consultation and in full cooperation with our allies."

May Draft Men for Army National Guard

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Pentagon officials are studying the possibility of drafting young men into the Army National Guard.

There are some legal and political hangups, but guard sources say the draft may be the only way to bolster a sagging but critical part of the nation's military establishment.

Army Guard strength has dipped to its lowest level in six years—384,000, 16,000 below the authorized level.

Guard officials think they may lose another 80,000 citizen-soldiers before next fall and then face serious manpower shortages.

For now, they are relying on higher pay and other incentives to re-enlistment to reverse the diminishing size of units around the country.

And they emphasize that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird would probably seek congressional approval before going ahead with a draft into the part-time Army. But the idea is a very live one, officials say.

The idea of using the draft to support the guard, and other military reserves, is startling because it comes even as the Nixon administration is trying to end the draft for the regular armed forces by mid-1973.

But Pentagon officials do not see any necessary conflict. They contend the government can continue to cut the size of the regular forces only if it can

Families Are Set Up on Fruit Farms

By JERRY SCARBROUGH
Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — If you are unemployed, but would like to learn your way and don't mind working hard, the State of Oklahoma has a proposition for you.

The state Office of Economic Opportunity is looking for 300 families it plans to set up with 16-acre fruit farms and minimum incomes of $7,000 a year.

If the program is successful, several thousand more Oklahoma families will receive the same deal within five years.

Gov. David Hall stresses that the program requires hard physical labor and perseverance.

To acquire title to 10 acres in southeastern Oklahoma you have to clear the land of black jack and scrub oak.

The OEO will provide free use of chain saws and other equipment for clearing, plus instructions on how to run the equipment. Then the OEO will help grade the land and provide vines and trees for an orchard.

OEO officials say the orchards will produce at least $7,000 a year for each family in the piece-by-piece examination.

Receiving anything other than the free-pass card immediately sets up a nerve-wracking train of thought. "Do I look like a smuggler?" "Why didn't he believe me?" "Is there anything I forgot to declare?"

Then comes the actual search. I always find myself babbling with nervousness, ready to declare the most inane thing. Like the 98-cent bottle of nail polish I bought in France.

In addition, there's always the problem of items purchased and dutifully declared on previous trips. Or foreign-made goods bought in the United States.

Any customs inspector with an eye in his head can tell that my battered and scuffed Italian shoes are victims of long-term wear.

And my white kid gloves from Christian Dior include the label from the New York department store where I bought them at twice the Paris price.

Descriptions and serial numbers of all the cameras are neatly listed on the customs form obtained before departure. (But did I remember to bring the form?)

Invariably, all turns out well. Despite my babbling, the inspector decides I'm not a hardened smuggler.

The only things he decides to inspect closely are my three-year-old fake fur, safely tagged with the name of an American manufacturer, and a gold ring, also American and also several years old.

I'm finally on my way, sputtering over and proud possessor of all my miscellaneous parcels. Next year, I tell myself, I won't be nervous. After all, I haven't done anything wrong. Have I?

Ex-Pakistan Head Under Detention

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A Pakistani newspaper reported today that former President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan is under house arrest and will remain under detention during an inquiry into his wartime leadership.

The Daily New Times said Yahya, who dropped from sight when Zulfikar Ali Bhutto replaced him as president, has continued to live in the presidential residence since his resignation last week. The report said he would be moved to a private residence in Rawalpindi.

Several political and military leaders have demanded that Yahya be brought to trial for the loss of East Pakistan to India. Bhutto responded by naming a commission to conduct an investigation of the war.

The new administration held firm in its first major crisis, protest demonstrations against Bhutto's choice of Sardar Bhakht Raisani as governor of Baluchistan Province.

Information Minister Abdul Hafiz Pirzada pledged punishment for instigators of Tuesday's protests in the provincial capital of Quetta, about 500 miles southwest of Rawalpindi.

One person was killed and four were wounded in the turmoil.

The government said Raisani, an independent, would be sworn in today as scheduled. He is opposed by the National Awami party, a rival of Bhutto's People's party and the strongest faction in the province.

The National Awami president, Khan Abdul Wali Khan, said Bhutto was talking out of both sides of his mouth in claiming that national unity should override local political considerations.

"If Bhutto says he wants one Pakistan, then Sheikh Mujib is the choice of the majority of the people and he and not Bhutto should be chief martial law administrator," Wali said.

Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's Awami League in East Pakistan—a separate party from Wali's—won a majority of seats in the National Assembly last year, but the assembly was never allowed to meet.

State of Union Message Expected on January 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to deliver his election-year State of the Union message to Congress on Jan. 20, and the Democratic majority is at work on a televised assessment of its own, to be delivered a day or two later.

The White House has advised Senate Republicans of the date but has not yet sent word as to whether the President will speak at mid-day or will make the speech in the evening, on prime television time.

The expectation on Capitol Hill is that the Nixon message will offer no dramatic, new proposals, but will concentrate upon urging a Democratic Congress to act on what he already has offered.

One Republican legislative tactician said Nixon won't get anything new out of Congress anyway. He said a Congress controlled by the Democratic party that will be challenging Nixon for the White House in 1972 will be in no mood to deal with new administration proposals.

But there is plenty of leftover business on the domestic agenda already presented by the President, with welfare reform, health care and insurance, and federal revenue sharing with the states and cities topping the pending list.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien has speculated that Nixon may indeed post new tax proposals in 1972, suggesting the President may recommend a value-added tax, a form of national sales tax.

There has been speculation such a proposal might be advanced as a means of financing massive new federal aid to schools to ease the burden of local property taxes.

It could be an attractive offering in a campaign year, although the chances of approval in a Democratic Congress would be slim. But the administration might try to translate inaction on such a proposal into an issue with harried taxpayers during the campaign.

One certain Nixon offering will be legislation to confirm his devaluation of the dollar by raising the price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce. Democratic leaders have pledged to seek prompt approval.

An annual assessment of the State of the Union by the party out of White House power has become a fixture at the opening of Congress.

The State of the Union message, on a Monday, will be broadcast live by the major television and radio networks.

The party out of power has been offered free television time for its assessment since Republicans were doing the rebuttals during the administration of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Yacht Becomes Tomb of Captain

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The motor yacht Miss Flagler has carried the body of her captain to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean on the last voyage of their 18-year partnership at sea.

The $60,000, 48-foot yacht died hard. Seamen from a vessel that acted as the Miss Flagler's pallbearer had to smash holes in her deck and top before she slid under the waves Tuesday to become Capt. Joe Serzan's oceanic tomb.

Serzan died at the age of 62 on Dec. 20 after 40 years in the employ of Florida's Flagler family. The last 18 years he was captain of the Miss Flagler.

Mrs. Flagler Matthews, granddaughter of railroad baron Henry M. Flagler and owner of the yacht, often had heard Serzan express a wish that he be buried at sea.

She never told him that she meant to honor his wish by giving him a funeral that would also send the yacht to the ocean depths.

Mrs. Matthews got permission from the Coast Guard to scuttle the Miss Flagler Dec. 22, but high winds and rough seas kept the boat at her moorings until Tuesday.

Just after dawn, Mrs. Matthews, a Roman Catholic priest and several mourners boarded a fishing boat that took the Miss Flagler to a point about 30 miles off shore.

She was anchored in 180 feet of water and men opened sea cocks that allowed water to gush into her hull.

The water soon covered the three new engines that had been installed in the white hull two weeks before Serzan died. Soon, waves washed over her foredeck, but the Miss Flagler stopped sinking when her cabin top was barely awash.

It was then that the men went aboard and smashed splintering holes in her in an effort to let trapped air escape. But the Miss Flagler still didn't slip to the bottom until nightfall.

Mrs. Matthews said she wanted to keep the burial site a secret to prevent salvagers from attempting to raise the yacht.

Pemiscot School System in Steele, Missouri.

Mr. Davis received his Bachelor of Science Degree from the University of Missouri, where he was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity. He is presently employed with Neal-Cooper Grain Company and is also engaged in farming with his father.

Vows will be exchanged February 5, at 5 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Emmet. All friends and relatives are invited.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

KEEP SECRETS TO YOURSELF

Dear Helen:

I am getting married in a few weeks and was told that my husband-to-be is supposed to read my diary on our wedding night. Is this true? —DIANE

Dear Diane:

No!!! —H.

Dear Helen:

Holidays are the time for visiting or being visited. How about reminding people about guest manners? And host manners too?

I have this friend who comes to stay for a week or more and by the time she's gone, I'm pooped! I'm "doing for" her the entire time, and do well to get one dish-drying offer out of her. She's constantly asking me to bring her something, or go shopping for her. But when it comes to suggesting trips (some quite expensive) she's right there. The more tired I get, the more she wants to go. And she never thinks to pick up the check. With her, it's "dutch" or my treat. She doesn't even bring a "thank you gift," or send one.

Yet, in spite of this, she's good company—just not a good visitor. Many people are like her. Maybe a list of "dos" and "don'ts" would help them. —TIERED HOSTESS

A reader from San Antonio sent this "guest" list: (To which I've added a few of my own pet reminders)—

Dear Helen:

You asked for "something different" for your columns. As a recent hostess, I jotted down ideas (for myself and others) on how to be a popular visitor. Here they are:

1. Remember that your hostess has gone to great pains fixing up the house. Compliment her—and then try to keep it looking that way. Don't strew your things all over—confine them to your room, and don't even let that room look as though a hurricane had struck. A good host or hostess isn't snooty, but sometimes he or she looks in on a guest's room. It shouldn't be with total dismay.

2. About breakfasts: if the hostess must rise early to see her husband off to work, she might prefer that you come out later when she isn't so rushed. But if she prefers fixing one breakfast for all, then don't wander out around 9 a.m. and expect her to reactivate her kitchen.

3. If you stay over a week, be sure to give your hosts a few hours of "alone time" each day. Don't always be underfoot. Go shopping by yourself, take a walk, read a book. Constant entertaining wears a hostess down.

4. Offer to help. Better yet, be there when help is needed and pitch in. But don't scrub or clean TOO hard. You might give the hostess the impression she doesn't do it well enough.

5. Don't ask your hosts to babysit for you (especially if they're grandparents or relatives of the children). Too many young marrieds make "Grandma's house" their convenient free headquarters while they spend the whole vacation time visiting friends.

6. Keep the kids under control. And remember, jumping on them excessively for every little thing is almost as bad as letting them run wild.

7. Don't bring your pets.

8. You're not in a motel, so hang up your towels, use them again; make your beds, pick up your clothes; keep your toothbrush and cosmetics hidden or least contained. And double check before you leave. Sending forgotten items by parcel post is expensive.

9. Loosen up your purse strings. Take your host and hostess out to dinner at least once. Don't forget the thank-you gift. If you drink, bring a bottle. Even if you don't—and they do—likewise.

10. And leave before you wear out your welcome. —RECENT HOSTESS

Gets Grant for Headstart

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South Central Arkansas Community Action Authority at Camden has received a $4,923 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The money will be used to finance a nine-month Headstart program for 40 preschool children from low-income families in Ouachita, Calhoun and Columbia counties.

Census Data Is Essential

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's been nearly two years since the government counted you, your neighbor and the guy down the street. But chances are your legislature still doesn't know how many live on your block.

The census of April 1, 1970, was a one-day snapshot of the country. The picture still is being developed, and waiting for it are state and local governments under the gun to reapportion.

The material that's sought is called "block data,"—literally a count of people who live on a given city block, arranged with neat little quick-glance maps. The Census Bureau is tabulating 1,500,000 such blocks, a staggering task even with computers.

Census data is a basic tool for redistricters. It provides the answer for the courts' demand that every person be represented equally in city and county councils, in the state legislature and in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"People are paying attention to population data as never before," said a key official at the Census Bureau. "When people did their redistricting after the 1960 census, there was no rush because there were no legal mandates."

Then came the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rulings of the 60s and "anybody is able to take a state legislature into federal court," he said. "People want to redistrict as fast as possible. A lot more people are knocking at our door and they want data earlier than the Census Bureau can give it to them."

On the day of the census, the bureau set 180,000 people to counting noses. Preliminary data was released in the fall of 1970. By February this year, each state had the figures for its part of the 250,000 "enumeration districts" the bureau tabulates.

"The Master Enumeration District list was available," the census official said. "Some states picked it up, some didn't. But a lot of older politicians, particularly the ones that worked on redistricting in the 60s, were used to using block data. And some states could not use the MED list because it averages 800 people per district."

The bureau began distributing the block data last September and expects to have it all out by the end of January, depending on how fast the government printing office works.

"An awful lot of these block reports are down at the GPO," said the census bureau man.

Discusses Agriculture

MONROE SAMUEL

Monroe Samuel of DeAnn, Arkansas told the Hope Lions some very interesting facts about our environment Monday, December 27, during the weekly luncheon hour at the Town and Country.

We normally think of sewage waste and disposal as a human problem but Mr. Samuel pointed out that animal waste in the state of Arkansas amounts to a staggering total of two billion tons or ten times that of the human population.

He then gave the group an idea of the value of agricultural products in the state. One million, seven hundred thirty-seven thousand head of cattle valued at two hundred eighty-five million, nine hundred and twenty thousand dollars. Broilers, four hundred fifty-two million six hundred and eighty-four thousand head at over two hundred million dollars; laying hens and eggs valued at over one hundred and two million dollars. Soybeans, over two hundred eighty-one million dollars. Pulpwood over sixty-one million dollars.

These are only the larger products whose value means so much to the state but all create massive pollution problems to land, water, and air.

Progress is being made and the country side looks better kept than a few years back he said.

Mr. Samuel presented beautiful scenic slides as the way we see our state and would like for it to be, and then took the group on another tour showing trash on the roadside, abandoned buildings, spoiled streams, clouds of smoke and dust rising into the sky, wrecking yards, eroded farm land and city dumps visible from the highway.

After the contrasting slide tours he then presented pictures of screens and hedges that could hide much of the unsightly waste.

Dr. Hoyt Watson of North Texas State University accompanied Mr. Samuel.

Other guests were Bill Etter, Jr., John Drake, and Doug Byrd, sons of Lions present; and Edwin Dale of Nashville, Ark., guest of Lion Jack Caldwell.

Warren Plyler arranged the program.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Duke of Garland, Tex., announce the birth of their first child on December 24. It was a girl and has been named Dee Ann. Grandparents, all of Hope, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor.

Coming, Going

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gladney during the holidays are AIC Stephen F. Magee, Anderson AFB, Guam; Miss Mary Magee, Southern State College; MM3 Robert T. Gladney, San Francisco; and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Purdie and children, Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Y.C. Coleman went to Dallas for Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Green, Irving, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnett, Arlington, Tex.; and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose, New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Reed and Cindy, Nashville, spent Christmas with Mrs. Pearl Owens, and Terry Lynn Owens returned to his home in Horatio on Tuesday after visiting his grandmother.

Arkansan Wins $26,000 in Irish Sweepstakes

By JIM MCCALL
Associated Press Writer
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—“I don’t think I’m any luckier than anyone else,” said Dr. T. J. Collier of Hot Springs Tuesday after he had been told that he had won $26,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes hurdles run in Leopardstown, Ireland.

It may be difficult for Collier to find anyone who agrees with him. He said it was the second time he had won money in the sweepstakes.

“I won before — about six years ago,” he said. “But it was only about $3,000 and I had to split it with a friend. It was a consolation prize. We had a ticket on the favorite and it was scratched.”

There were 13 third-place tickets holders who won $26,000 Tuesday. Thirteen holders of winning tickets will receive $130,000 and 13 runners-up will get $52,000.

Millions of tickets were sold worldwide.

Collier said he bought his ticket several months ago but had not thought much about winning.

“I was aware the race was to be run today,” he said. “But I was really surprised when someone from the local paper called me up and said they saw a story from The Associated Press that said I had won $26,000.”

Collier held a ticket on Phaestus, which finished third over the two-mile course. Keleanne won the race and Lockyer sleigh finished second.

The favorites, Canasta Lad and Boxer, were never in contention.

Collier said he had bought Irish Sweepstakes tickets several times and had entered several other contests, before, but hadn’t had much luck at winning.

“The two times I won money in the sweepstakes are really the only times that I’ve won anything,” he said.

Collier, a physician who has been in practice in Hot Springs for about 30 years, said he planned to put the money in a bank.

“I’m going to continue to live a normal life,” he said. “I don’t plan to change a thing.”

Yesterday's Hero Is Now in the Shadows

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Dallas fans voted him their “favorite Cowboy”—but that was a year ago.

Now, 51 weeks after he quarterbacked the Cowboys to a National Conference championship, Craig Morton sits in the shadows.

More precisely, he stands in them, conferring with Coach Tom Landry and watching the action from the bench while Roger Staubach does the quarterbacking.

“We’re winning, aren’t we? That’s the important thing,” Morton said as he and the rest of the Cowboys went through a workout in preparation for their NFC title rematch with the 49ers Sunday at Texas Stadium.

The personable, soft-spoken seven-year veteran from California, who lost the No. 1 job to Staubach midway in the season, expressed mixed emotions about his back-up role.

“Sure I want to play,” declared Morton, who directed the Cowboys to a 17-10 triumph over San Francisco a year ago and came close to doing the same in the Super Bowl before Baltimore eked out a 16-13 decision.

“Any man who said he didn’t want to play wouldn’t be true to his profession,” Morton said.

“And I wouldn’t be telling the truth if I didn’t say I want to be in there awful bad.”

“But let’s face it—Roger’s doing the job. He’s brought up to where we are today, so naturally we’ve got to go with him.”

It was on Oct. 31, after the Cowboys had lost to Chicago, that Morton became No. 2. Prior to that, Dallas didn’t have a No. 1, so Landry decided to experiment against the Bears, shuttling his quarterbacks in and out on alternate plays.

After that debacle, Landry—calling the plays from the bench as he had all year—went with Staubach. The result was a 16-13 victory over St. Louis, followed by seven more victories in succession, including last Saturday’s 20-12 romp against Minnesota in the NFC semifinal.

“I don’t really know why I lost the job,” Morton said.

“Coach Landry just never explained it to me.” But a check of the statistics shows that while Morton’s were good, Staubach’s were better.

“Now I just stay in shape, keep up with the training, the studying and everything, just as though I was No. 1. After all, you never know what might happen . . .”

Cold Porks Lose Again

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—Ev Pompea scored 27 points to lead Idaho State to an 88-73 victory over Arkansas Tuesday night in the consolation game of the Utah State Classic here.

The Bengals capitalized on cold shooting by Arkansas in the first half as the Razorbacks made only 10 of 36 shots from the field for a 27 per cent average.

Idaho State shot 54 per cent in the same period to lead 45-26 at halftime.

Arkansas guard Martin Terry led a comeback in the second half, scoring 20 points after putting in only six in the first half. Pushing his team to within six points with six minutes left, Terry fouled out and the threat fizzled.

Other high scorers for Idaho State were Pete Miller with 19 and Edison Hicks with 17.

On Mean Joe
Guard John Williams of the Baltimore Colts has this to say about the Pittsburgh Steelers’ Mean Joe Greene: “You don’t have to psyche yourself for Joe Greene. It’s either you or him.”

South All-Stars Wrap Up Blue-Gray Grid Classic

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — While the South all-stars were wrapping up their final game as collegians with a 9-0 victory in the Blue-Gray football classic, their head coach was also pacing the sidelines for what was probably his last time before stepping into the professional ranks himself.

Bill Peterson, who guided the Gray squad through a giant defensive battle Tuesday night, had learned earlier in the day that Rice University was not going to put up a legal fight to keep him as their head football coach.

His send-off in the nationally televised game in Cramton Bowl was on a winning note, but the victory was earned in a manner which Peterson is not known for.

He has been one of college football’s biggest proponents of the pro passing style, and under his command on the Gray squad were two quarterbacks with proven passing abilities — Steve Judy of Texas Christian and Joe Gilman of Tennessee State.

However, the expected aerial fireworks were dampened by fierce defensive work, and it took a 7-yard touchdown scamper by Stahl Vincent of Rice and a 19-yard field goal by Tennessee’s George Hunt to nail down the hard-fought win.

The Gray quarterbacks completed eight of 17 attempts and had three of them picked off. The Blues, with two good arms in quarterbacks Neil Graff of Wisconsin and Gary Fox of Wyoming, fared even worse, completing only seven of 25 tosses. However, they registered no interceptions.

Pointing up the defense’s contributions to the victory was the selection of defensive end Guy Roberts of Maryland as the game’s most valuable player. The choice of the 6-foot, 225-pounder marked the first time in the classic’s 34-year history that the award went to a defensive player.

Stahl’s touchdown bolt on the first play of the second period climaxed a 74-yard drive which was highlighted by hard charges from Vincent and Art Cantrelle of Louisiana State as well as timely completions by Judy.

Hunt’s field goal came late in the fourth quarter, shortly after the Blue’s muffed their best chance of the night by running out of downs at the South 18.

Afterwards, North head coach John Jardine of Wisconsin voiced an opinion which most fans at the game would have agreed with considering the Blue squad’s offensive talents. “One thing I thought we’d at least be able to do,” he said, “was put something on the board.”

Big Boom in Tie Sales for Yepremian

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — There’s been a big boom in tie sales for Garo Yepremian since he kicked his winning field goal in pro football’s longest game. But the little Miami kicker knows that a guy like Bubba Smith can cause an instant recession.

“People who are selling my ties tell me they’re very happy,” Yepremian reported today before the Dolphins’ workout for Sunday’s American Conference Championship game against Baltimore. “A lot of people are calling the stores ordering my ties.”

They are doing so in the wake of Saturday’s 37-yard field goal that produced a 27-24 victory over Kansas City after 22 minutes, 40 seconds of sudden-death overtime. That kick made the 5-foot-7 soccer-style booter the No. 1 local hero.

That has meant immediate increase in sales for Yepremian’s tie business—one he began following the 1967 season when he was cut by the Detroit Lions.

“When I lost that job I started making ties,” said Yepremian, a Cypriot of Armenian heritage who left the island during the civil war in 1960 and landed in London with his family.

“My parents had always been in the fabric business,” Yepremian explained. “When we arrived in London I went to work in a factory as a cutter making tunics for the guards at Buckingham Palace. When Detroit cut me I started the tie business.”

Business sometimes rises and falls with his kicks, so his current concern is Smith, mammoth defensive end of the Colts.

Yepremian kicked the winning field goal in a 17-14 victory over Baltimore the first time the teams met this season, but had one blocked by the 6-foot-7, 295-pound Smith during a 14-3 loss in their second meeting.

Smith also blocked two field goal attempts in the playoff game against Cleveland in which the Colts advanced to the AFC championship game and has a total of four for the season on a club that has blocked an unusually high number of seven.

“He does that a lot of times,” Yepremian acknowledged.

“What I have to do is concentrate more on my kicks and kick higher than I normally do. You lose about five yards distance, but when you know the other team has a terrific rush you have to do that.”

Colts, Dolphins Fight for Title

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Bubba Smith impresses opposing players and coaches, but in Baltimore he still lives in the shadow of Gino Marchetti.

As a result, Baltimore fans are seldom satisfied with the performance of the current defensive left end of the Colts.

Marchetti, rated as one of the best defensive ends in the history of the National Football League, was an All-Pro choice for nine consecutive seasons, 1956-64, with the Colts.

“It’s difficult to be compared with Gino,” said John Sandusky, Baltimore’s defensive line coach, as the Colts arrived here today to begin final preparations for Sunday’s American Conference title game in Miami against the Dolphins.

“Gino was the best I’ve ever seen, but he was blocked out at times, too,” Sandusky said. “But he wasn’t great from the start.”

Sandusky says Smith has improved steadily in each of his five seasons with Baltimore, but contended “that’s only natural.”

“If you don’t improve with experience, you’re going downhill,” he said. “I believe Bubba has the talent and the physical attributes to have people talking about him the way they talked about Gino.”

Gamecocks Charge Into the Finals

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
When you’ve coached college basketball as long as Frank McGuire and Bobby Knight have, you notice the little things.

McGuire noticed some familiar faces watching Tuesday night as his third-ranked South Carolina Gamecocks charged into the finals of the Quaker City Basketball Tournament by ripping Boston College 86-64.

And Knight noticed Brigham Young’s zone and knew the only way to beat it was a deliberate offense that went only for the good shot. So that’s the way his seventh-ranked Indiana club whipped eighth-rated BYU 61-50 in the opening round of the Old Dominion Classic.

Tom Riker, 6-foot-10 senior, and Danny Traylor, 7-foot sophomore, led South Carolina to an early 22-8 bulge against overmatched BC, combining for 15 points in the early surge.

The Gamecocks, 7-0, controlled the boards so thoroughly that Boston College was shut out completely in offensive rebounds in the first half and trailed by 20 points at the intermission.

Traylor finished with 22 points and Riker had 15 for SC. Bob Carver added 16 for the Gamecocks.

In other Quaker City semifinal action, Villanova ran off 12 straight points in the second half and defeated No. 20 Tennessee 76-67.

Chris Ford’s pinpoint passing led the Wildcats’ spurt that turned a one-point Tennessee lead into an 11-point bulge for Villanova.

In the Old Dominion Classic, Indiana’s deliberate attack wore down Brigham Young.

Steve Downing scored 23 points and grabbed 23 rebounds for Indiana while Joby Wright added 18 points and 12 rebounds. That was enough to contain BYU’s Krestimir Cosic, the 6-foot-11 Yugoslavian pivot, who had 21 points.

“I realize it was a slow game for the crowd to watch,” said Knight, “but when you come down against a zone like was faced most of the night and go for the good shot, you’re not going to have a high-scoring game.”

In the other first round game of the Old Dominion tournament, Old Dominion walloped Rice 114-86.

Second-ranked Marquette won the Milwaukee Classic, edging No. 17 Marshall 74-72 in the title game. It was the fourth straight tourney title for the host Warriors.

Bob Lackey and Allie McGuire combined to convert 17 of 19 second half free throws and the foul line accuracy doomed Marshall. McGuire’s last two free throws with 17 seconds left, gave Marquette a four-point edge and clinched the victory. Lackey finished with 23 points to top the Warriors.

Fifth-ranked Southern California was jolted by No. 14 Penn 88-67 in the opening round of the Kodak Classic. Phil Hankinson hit 21 points and Bob Morse added 20 for the Quakers.

In the other Kodak Classic opener, St. Bonaventure slugged host Rochester 84-60.

Controversy dotted play in other holiday tournaments.

Fordham and Louisville gained the finals of the Holiday Festival at New York’s Madison Square Garden with the Rams eliminating Providence 77-72 in overtime and the 15th-ranked Cardinals whipping St. Peters, N.J. 126-80.

Louisville refused to come onto the court until after the National Anthem was played, citing “superstition,” and causing a walkout by veteran Garden public address announcer John Condon, who refused to work the game after the incident.

Ron Thomas’ 26 points led Louisville, which won its seventh straight since losing its opener to Florida. The National Anthem affair was “just a matter of superstition,” according to Louisville Coach Denny Crum. “My team once honored the National Anthem and we lost. Now we just won’t come out until it’s played.”

Tom Sullivan’s five-straight overtime points led Fordham past Providence. Bart Woytowicz contributed 21 points to the Ram attack and Ken Charles

Lakers Add to the Longest Streak

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers are alone at the top of the pro basketball world. But Coach Bill Sharman keeps looking for new mountains to climb.

“Seattle is the team we have to beat,” the coach said Tuesday night after the Lakers had lengthened the National Basketball Association’s longest-ever winning streak to 29 games with a 105-87 victory over Buffalo.

The SuperSonics, Los Angeles’ next opponent in Seattle Thursday night, have been the victims three times during the streak, but Sharman reminded his listeners, “They are the only team to beat us on the road this year and they are No. 2 in our division.”

What he didn’t mention was that Seattle trails the Lakers by 14 games in the Pacific Division.

The Lakers’ fantastic streak is overshadowing some other burgeoning winning skeins. The Boston Celtics, down by 16 points in the third period, rallied to make it nine in a row with a 120-116 triumph over Philadelphia.

The New York Knicks ran their string to seven, pulling away from Detroit in the second quarter and trouncing the Pistons 119-100. And Chicago’s streak reached six as the Bulls turned back the Milwaukee Bucks 116-105 with Bob Rule getting 27 points in the second half and outscoring Kareem Jabbar 41-35.

Elsewhere, Baltimore walloped Cincinnati 119-87 and Cleveland nipped Portland 112-111.

The expansion Braves gave the Lakers an argument most of the way and might have won but for 30 turnovers. A rash of Buffalo ball-handling mistakes helped the Lakers on a 25-6 blitz in the final 10 minutes of the first half, and another series of errors by the Braves kept the Los Angeles lead safe after it had dwindled to 89-82 with 5½ minutes to play.

Elmore Smith, Buffalo’s 7-foot rookie from Kentucky State, scored 17 points in the first quarter, when the Braves took a 34-27 lead. He wound up with 32 points and 20 rebounds, both game highs.

The Lakers parceled out the points more evenly, with Jerry West leading at 24, Chamberlain adding 23, Gail Goodrich 20 and Happy Hairston 19. Hairston had 14 rebounds and Chamberlain 13.

dropped in a pair of free throws with 30 seconds left, forcing the game into overtime.

In the consolation game of the Astro-Bluebonnet classic, winless Louisiana State was tagged with five technical fouls and bowed to Texas A&M 73-68. Jeff Overhouse led the Aggies with 26 points.

Referee Bob Smith ejected LSU Coach Press Maravich, tagging him with three consecutive fouls in the final minute of the first half. Then, consecutive technicals against LSU in the final minute of the game gave Overhouse two more free throws which he converted to put the game away.

“The only thing I can say,” said Referee Smith, “is that the LSU coach started it. Coach Maravich, isn’t that his name, was moaning about inconsistency. I struck a technical on him and he said, ‘Give me two.’ I warned him that the third technical would put him out of the game and he said, ‘Give me three.’”

Houston won the tournament for the ninth straight year, blasting Michigan State 104-73. Steve Newsome’s 21 points led the Cougar attack.

Stanford ripped Valparaiso 80-66 to capture the Motor City Tournament with Claude Terry’s 16 points topping the scorers.

Wyoming downed Utah State 92-85 to capture the Utah State Classic.

In the Far West Classic’s first round, it was Washington State 81, Michigan 67; and New Mexico 76, Oregon 61.

In first round play at the Gator Bowl, Illinois rallied for a 74-72 victory over North Carolina late and Florida breezed to an 87-47 romp over Columbia. Illinois plays Florida for the title tonight.

In the Big Eight tournament, Iowa State topped Kansas 91-88 and Kansas State nipped Oklahoma 62-60, completing the first round. Both winners moved into the tournament’s semifinals.

In the All-College tourney, Eastern Kentucky topped Texas Tech 95-92 and Santa Clara ripped No. 16 Jacksonville 109-88, finishing the first round.

Outstanding Athlete Named

TORONTO (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins, 28-year-old right-hander for Chicago Cubs, was named Canada’s outstanding male athlete of 1971 Tuesday, only the second man ever to win the honor three times.

Jenkins, who won the award in 1967 and 1968, joins Maurice “The Rocket” Richard, retired star of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League who was picked in 1952, 1957 and 1958, as three-time winners.

Jenkins is from Chatham, Ont.

The poll is conducted by The Canadian Press among sports writers and broadcasters across the country.

Jenkins, a 20-game winner in each of the last five seasons, won with 232 points. Phil Esposito of hockey’s Boston Bruins was second with 187, and world-record harness racing driver Herve Filion, was third with 150.

Indians Meet UT-Chattanooga

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga clash tonight for the championship of the ASU Holiday Basketball Tournament here.

The host Indians made it to the final round with an 80-68 victory Tuesday night over Midwestern University of Wichita Falls, Tex. UT-Chattanooga sailed past Eastern Illinois University 83-75.

Guard Danny Sullivan pumped in 21 points and forward Steve Brooks added 18 to pace the ASU attack. Arkansas State dominated the backboards 68-41 as senior John Belcher pulled down 17.

UT-Chattanooga got a 26-point performance from 6-8 center Walter McGary and 19 points from guard Ralph Simpson. Bill Thomann led Eastern Illinois with 20 points.

What Is the Best Source of Iron?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Without taking iron tablets, what is the best source of iron? What is the most economical way to purchase iron for an older woman?

Dear Reader—First let's see how much iron a person really needs. Children, men and nonmenstruating women need only four to 10 milligrams a day in their food. Adolescents and menstruating women need 10 to 20 milligrams a day. Pregnant women and infants should consult their doctor. The only reason to need more than these requirements is the presence of bleeding, for example from the bowels. And if for this reason you need to take more than the given amount, you should by all means have a checkup.

To help those of you with iron problems, I have made a list of values of iron in milligrams from the U.S. Department of Agriculture data for 3 1/2 ounces of the following foods:

Baby food cereals with

Obviously if you need four to 10 milligrams of iron a day, seven ounces of lean beef should be sufficient.

Beans, dry mature seeds, are an excellent source and so are wheat and oats. As you can see, there are really quite a number of foods that even in limited amounts will provide the needed amount of daily iron. Of course, an adolescent or a menstruating woman might need to pay a little more attention to be sure to eat foods with sufficient iron.

Some fortified milk and enriched cereals also contain iron. If a person really needed a lot of iron, he could get it from baby food cereals, with added nutrients. These are not necessarily cheap though.

Obviously an excellent source of iron is beans baked with molasses. The use of mature beans in the diet is often underrated. They have lots of good calories, a reasonable amount of protein and are rich in iron.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the demise of "Batman," network television has had few jolly criminals or merry masters of disguise. Thus Tuesday night's "Hawaii Five-O" on CBS was something of a surprise. And it certainly was an acting romp for guest star Hume Cronyn.

This is usually a tense, hard-fisted action series in which smiling top cop Steve McGarrett cleverly brings the bad guys to book. This week however, a jaunty senior citizen outwitted Steve and his men at every turn except, of course, the last one.

Cronyn played a cool schemer who slipped out of prison and became engaged in a complicated plan that involved hoodwinking two sets of accomplices in his effort to make off with $4 million.

Cronyn changed disguises—wigs, beards and clothes, including women's—about every 15 minutes and was as handy with mechanical devices as Barney, the electronics wizard of "Mission: Impossible." The dialogue was sprightly, the action fast. In fact the only trouble with all the fun was that it didn't quite fit the sober

Opening lead—♠ 2

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Today's hand appeared in our column back in July. South had looked at dummy and commented, "We haven't bid enough." Then he proceeded to win the trump lead and play the ace and king of hearts. West ruffed and led a second trump, whereupon Garrulous Gene proceeded to go down one at his slam contract.

Numerous readers pointed out the contract could be made. East must discard on that second trump and can't afford to throw a heart or club. He must throw a diamond. Now South plays ace of diamonds; ruffs a low diamond; ruffs a low heart and leads dummy's last diamond. If East throws a club South can set up dummy's last club; if he throws a heart, South can set up his last heart.

This play is known as a trump squeeze. Gene did not find it at the table and we did not study the hand enough to notice it. We also failed to note that South could make a grand slam by means of dummy reversal.

He leads a diamond to the ace at trick two. Ruffs a diamond in his hand; leads a club to the ace; ruffs dummy's last diamond; leads a club to the king; ruffs a club and leads his last trump to dummy.

Dummy is left with two trumps, a club and the ace-three of hearts. Those two trumps are played and South discards down to the king and two hearts. East is hopelessly squeezed. He can't throw his last club and since he also can't unguard the hearts he has to watch South make all the tricks.

Our thanks to the many readers who sent us comments on this most interesting hand.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Does bullfrog denote only the male of the species?
A—No, the term denotes both the male and female of the species.

Q—In baseball, how did the term "Texas Leaguer" get its name?
A—This became baseball's parlance for a weak hit just over the heads of the infield but short of the outfield players. The term was first used to describe the short hits of Arthur Sunday, a player from the Texas League.
